National Council. tion by them of a platform on which they a peal to the people. By reference to this pla form, in another column, our readers w perceive that its main feature is a demand f he ristoration of the Missouri Comp that does it not demand the abolition of slavery in this District, nor allude to the subject of slavery in any other respect.

The New England members, who form the chief portion of the secours, prounty deemed it impossible to sustain themselves at home without an open declaration in favor of the restoration of the Missouri Compronise. Some of them perhaps are actuated by a desire to break up the American party, as a national organization, and convert it into a sectional party. If so, we cannot but rejoice that they have seeded from the National Council. It is far better that they should leave now, taking with them that they should leave now, taking with them all cause for dissension than to remain for a few months and then d wert the national wing of the party in the miust of all residential elec-

But, whatever may be the motives or the of little consequence, inasmuch as New York. New Jersey, and Pennsylvania stand firmly upon the National Platform, and will continue to stand there. There also will the South stand, and present, we hope, an unbroken front at the next general election. For it is now perfectly evident, that the small remnant of the Democratic party yet in existence at the North, will be thoroughly abolitionized, if it be not so almost a transfer of the property of th ready. The proposition openly made by the admissitration journals in New York for analgamation with the Sewardites, is strong proor this point. The South, then, having been abundo

the Northern Democray, has no alternative but to plant itself upon the National Platform adopted yesterday at Philadelphia. Unless the the South takes this course, and gallantly sustains its Union-loving and conservative brethren in New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, the danger is innainent that Seward, or some other unscrupulo and supprincipled freesoil demagogue, will be assimilated as the Presidential candidate of the Northern fusionists, and be elected by the united votes of the supporters of the present administration, and the original friends of Seward and enemies of Henry Clay. We have too much confidence in the sugacity of the people of the South to suppose that they would willingly lend their aid to produce such a result. But we have no hesitation duce such a result. But we have no hesitation in saying that the recent election of Mr. Wise in Virginia is an important step in that direc-tion, bowever strongly the unsuspecting Virgin-ians who voted for him may deny that such was their intention .- Am.
